

Message from Miss Snow

It's been another eventful week here at Burnt Oak, and this week is no exception. As you may have seen in previous communications, we have an opening for a PE Specialist Teacher starting in September. This vacancy arises because Mr. O'Neill will be beginning his teacher training at another TPA School – our loss is certainly their gain! Thankfully, we still have him with us for a little while longer, so there's no need for goodbyes just yet. In the coming weeks, Mr. Kimberley (who will still be with us in September) and I will be conducting interviews, and we'll be sure to keep you updated on our recruitment progress. If you, or anyone you know, is interested in the role, please visit: <https://mynewterm.com/jobs/141976/EDV-2025-BOJS-86925> Have a good week!

Social Media

As well as having a twitter page:

We are also on Instagram @CISBOJTPA

And have a Facebook page—search for

Attendance

Those that follow us on Social Media will see that we have a new attendance display. 4T were our very first winners with an attendance of 97.2%.

This week's winners are 5S with 99.1%! Congratulations and well done!

Neurodiversity Week

Our assemblies this week focused on neurodiversity. Mrs Harbor and I were so impressed by the pupils' attitudes to and understanding of inclusion. We addressed misconceptions, spoke about ASD, ADHD, and Dyslexia and discussed ways that we could support people that are neurodiverse.

Safe

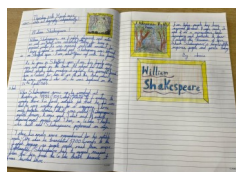

As you will be aware from my correspondence this week, I had a visit from the police who have agreed to come in at the end of term to speak to our families.

Here is an article about Whatsapp that may be beneficial to share: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/keeping-children-safe/online-safety/online-safety-blog/2023-01-12-is-whatsapp-safe-for-my-child/>

Learning

I got to see lots of amazing writing this week and Miss Willis shared some of these at a moderation event on Monday with other TPA English leads. Stand out pieces this week are from Annie (5S) and Alicia & Jessica (3T).

Happy

School staff are loving their 'Thank-you' forms. Please keep these coming in as it really is the highlight of our Friday briefing! You can complete a form here:

We have a brand new projector and screen in the hall! Hurrah! Thank-you to TPA who have bought this for us.

Whilst it wasn't our day today, the Boys' football team should be exceptionally proud to reach the TPA finals held here today. Your sportsmanship and support of each other was fantastic.
