

Message from Miss Snow

As we come to the end of the first half of the summer term, I want to take a moment to reflect on what has been a particularly busy and productive few weeks here at school. Our Year 6 pupils have shown incredible resilience and dedication as they completed their SATs. As I mentioned last week, they continue to impress us with their commitment to their writing and are now looking forward to the much-anticipated Year 6 play and the many festivities that mark the end of their primary school journey. Year 4 are preparing for their Multiplication Tables Check, which they will complete early in June. They've been working hard and we are confident they will do themselves proud. Across the school, all year groups have been enthusiastically engaging with their IPC (International Primary Curriculum) units. It has been wonderful to see their excitement during both entry and exit points, and the learning that has come from these experiences. We are also beginning to support our Year 2 children with their transition to Burnt Oak. Over the next half term, they will be visiting more frequently to help them become familiar with their new environment and feel confident about the move. A reminder that Monday 2nd June is an INSET day, and school will reopen for pupils on Tuesday 3rd June. Thank you for your continued support. Wishing you all a restful and enjoyable half term break. Miss Snow

Learning

It's been a fantastic week of learning and achievement across the school. Pupils have been bursting with pride—and rightly so! Danny (3B) amazed us with his dramatically improved handwriting, proudly comparing it to work from October. Matilda (4T) couldn't wait to show off her outstanding writing, sharing it with anyone who'd read it.

Meanwhile, Year 6 dazzled in auditions for their upcoming production. With such confident and creative performances, this year's show is set to be a standout success!

Year 5 transformed into travel agents for the day, selling us our dream destinations as the perfect exit point to their "Holiday Show."
