

Message from Miss Snow

It's been a busy week, as always, with lots of visitors in school seeing all the great things we are doing. We're looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible at our Christmas events, don't forget Chatsworth's Christmas Fair on the 13th December too!

Have a lovely weekend!

Learning

Children's learning continues in between all of the Christmas rehearsals and festivities. Year 3's work on The Great Fire of London is excellent.

The children can confidently retell the events of that day in 1666 and are now writing their own narratives. I've even heard a few wonderful renditions of "London's Burning!" Excellent work, as always, from our fantastic Year 3 team and pupils!

We also held our Sharing Assembly, where we celebrated our learning about the Festivals of Light. Children spoke articulately and with great confidence, and we all learned a lot!

Safe

We look forward to welcoming parents to our Year 3/4 Production on Monday and Tuesday. Please remember to bring your ticket with you, as this is needed for entry. Monday's performance is now fully booked, but tickets are still available for Tuesday. Please make sure you have booked before arriving, as we are unable to go over our capacity due to fire regulations, and we really don't want to offend anyone by having to turn you away. Thank you so much for your understanding.

Attendance

5B entered the race for the attendance award this week—and took the top spot! Congratulations to them!

Happy

Burnt Oak Hall is looking wonderfully festive, with the Christmas hoops created by Chatsworth and Burnt Oak classes now hanging proudly from the ceiling. Christmas is definitely in full swing!

As many of you know, we said goodbye to our Caretaker, Billy, this week. His final job of the day was to hang up the decorations—and he did a brilliant job. We wish him all the very best in his new role as a window fitter! Next week, we look forward to the Year 3/4 Productions and our Community Christmas Meal, and we hope as many of you as possible will be able to join us.

Headteachers from across The Pioneer Academy visited our school yesterday and enjoyed a tour of the classrooms. The feedback on teaching, learning, and the learning environment was extremely positive, as was the feedback on how well-behaved and articulate our children are. We already know this, of course—but it's always wonderful to hear it from others!
